

Dear Diego,

Congratulations again on your offer of admission to Brown University.

We are writing to share an important update to the stipend rate in your offer of admission.

Next year's stipend rate will be $42,412 distributed equally over the 12 months. This represents a significant enhancement to graduate student support and reaffirms the University's commitment to your success.

Please note, program supplements may be subject to adjustment to account for the increased annual base stipend rate. All other benefits in the summary of financial support section of your offer of admission remain unchanged.

Should you have additional questions about this enhancement, please feel free to contact the Graduate School at graduate_school@brown.edu. We also encourage you to be in touch with your graduate program.

Sincerely,
Brown University Graduate School